

Program – English Philology

Level – Bachelor

Qualification – Bachelor of Humanities in English Philology

Program Goals:

The aim of the program is to prepare Bachelors of Humanities in Philology (English Philology) who will have broad knowledge of the field, will know English of B2 level, structure of the English language, its peculiarities, English and American literature, and will have broad philological knowledge. Elaborated language competences will enable them to continue study at the second cycle of the academic education – Master's level or be employed at state or public sectors, in the spheres of education, mass media, tourism, non-governmental structures. Completion of Teacher Training courses will enable the graduates to be employed at schools. The educational program of BA English Philology will raise students' level and assist them in integration into society as well as become competitive at the labor market.

BA program in English Philology offers students academic education. It enables them to develop the following skills: critical analysis of a text, proper application of obtained knowledge in verbal and written communication, correct understanding and translation skills of literary and non-literary texts, skills to obtain and analyze latest information about social-political life of the modern world.

The aim of the course of English Philology is to teach students the following: structural, stylistic and lexical-semantic peculiarities of the language, productive types of word formation, existing environment and means of enriching the English vocabulary, English and American literature, various literary movements and trends, works of famous authors; translation heritage of masters of translation and methods of translation, innovative understanding and approaches towards the traditional fields of linguistics and deep perception; to form clear impression on the development, life style and cultural and literary values of the English people.

By studying business English students will learn peculiarities of business correspondence in offices, enterprises, hotels and other business environment.

In compliance with the mission of the University, the BA program in English Philology is oriented towards preparation of highly-qualified, competitive specialists, easily adaptive to changeable professional environment, who will have high civic awareness and principles. Through flexible and individual curriculum the program aims at maintaining high level of teaching and quality assurance. Improvement of teaching and learning quality as well as effective teaching methods will foster students' intellectual development.