

Georgian Philology
Bachelor
Bachelor of Humanities in Philology

Program Goals:

Georgian is state language of Georgia (Constitution of Georgia, Article 8), while Georgian literature – the main visiting card of the Georgian nation that indicates its high culture. Therefore, the MA program in Georgian Philology traditionally holds one of the leading places in the Georgian university education system, particularly at Batumi Shota Rustaveli State University.

The BA program prepares highly-qualified specialists of Georgian language and literature for the professional and research activities that are based on obtaining general humanitarian and general philological knowledge.

Graduates of the educational program possess deep knowledge of Georgian philology based on corresponding textbooks and comprising the leading aspects of the field.

Apart from specialists, the program implies formation of a free personality with high civic awareness and activity, humanism, democracy and principles of liberal values.