

Updated on 01.05.2026

Educational institution	Legal Entity of Public Law - Batumi Shota Rustaveli State University
Name of the educational program	Turkology/Turkology
Qualification to be awarded	Part I: Master of Turkology/Master of Turkology Part II: Research Master in Turkology/Research Master in Turkology
Program supervisor(s)	Zaza Shashikadze, Professor - zaza.shashikadze@bsu.edu.ge Emzar Makaradze, Professor - emzar.makaradze@bsu.edu.ge Lile Tandilava, Professor - lile.tandilava@bsu.edu.ge
Program structure/ECTS volume, curriculum (see Annex No. 1)	Part I - 60 ECTS Part II - 60 ECTS
Language of instruction	Georgian language
Prerequisite for admission to the educational program	Part I ✓ Unified Master's Examination; ✓ Internal university examinations: Turkish language - B2 level and specialty; ✓ Enrollment through mobility; ✓ Enrollment without the Unified National Examinations, in accordance with the procedure established by legislation. Part II ✓ Completion of Part I of the program; ✓ Enrollment through mobility; ✓ Enrollment of foreign citizens and persons with foreign education in accordance with Georgian legislation and BSU regulations.
Goal of the educational program	Part I ✓ To provide the master's student with deep and systematic knowledge of the main directions and fields of Turkology as a complex science, related to the relevant linguistic, philological, literary, historical-cultural, socio-political competences; and to raise language competence to at least level C1. ✓ To develop the ability to identify key and current topics and the latest issues related to linguistic, philological,

	literary, historical-cultural, socio-political matters in the field of Turkology. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ In accordance with the University's Strategic Plan and mission, to train, within the Turkology program, a highly qualified, modern-requirements-oriented and competitive specialist who will possess deep and systematic knowledge in the field. This will help the graduate continue studies at the next level and/or find employment in the labour market in the public and private sectors. Part II <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ To provide the master's student with deep and systematic knowledge of the main directions and fields of Turkology as a complex science, related to the relevant linguistic, philological, literary, historical-cultural, socio-political competences. ✓ To equip the master's student with appropriate skills to analyze and critically comprehend, in the process of study, research and professional activity, oral, written, literary and historical material from different areas of Turkology; to synthesize, interpret and contextualize it from various perspectives; and to demonstrate problem-solving, individual and team work, effective communication, presentation and interaction skills, which will be used effectively in the qualification thesis. ✓ To develop the ability to identify key and current topics, the latest issues, research methods and modern approaches related to linguistic, philological, literary, historical-cultural, socio-political matters in the field of Turkology. ✓ To develop skills of lifelong learning and professional development, competitiveness, openness to innovation, observance of ethical norms and academic integrity, and respect for cultural and worldview diversity, thereby contributing to the development of knowledge in this field - linguistic, philological, literary, historical-cultural and socio-political issues.
Learning outcomes	Part I <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ The graduate demonstrates deep and systematic knowledge in the field of Turkology, including linguistic, philological, literary, historical-cultural and socio-political competences. ✓ Identifies and describes key and current topics and the latest issues related to linguistic, philological, literary, historical-cultural and socio-political matters. ✓ Uses the Turkish language (at least at C1 level) in both written and oral communication; expresses personal opinions by selecting appropriate linguistic-structural units, observing language norms and using information technologies; integrates acquired knowledge for different purposes and audiences. ✓ Critically comprehends challenges and the latest achievements related to the target language and its historical-cultural and socio-political environment. ✓ Demonstrates problem-solving, individual and team work, effective communication, presentation and interaction skills in Turkology, taking into account the relevant environment, intercultural differences and the specific features of cultures. ✓ Demonstrates the ability to learn and work independently in the field, thereby contributing to the development of professional practice in Turkology. ✓ Demonstrates reasoning, writing and learning skills in familiar and unfamiliar study and work environments; relies on democratic principles and values; recognizes the importance of intercultural differences and cultural diversity; and shows tolerance toward different opinions, cultures and concepts. Part II <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Reviews the main trends of Turkology, the latest research methods and modern approaches; has studied the history and theories of various linguistic schools and trends. ✓ Uses the Turkish language (at least at C1 level) in both written and oral communication; expresses personal opinions by selecting appropriate linguistic-structural units, observing language norms and using information technologies; integrates acquired knowledge for different purposes and audiences. ✓ Analyzes information in different areas of Turkology; synthesizes, interprets and contextualizes oral, written, literary and historical material from a chosen perspective. ✓ Develops innovative and original approaches in the field of Turkology, formulates them in the qualification thesis using information and communication technologies, and presents them to the academic and professional community while observing principles of professional ethics and academic integrity.

- | | |
|--|--|
| | <ul style="list-style-type: none">✓ Demonstrates the ability to learn, conduct research and work independently in the field, thereby contributing to the development of knowledge and professional practice in the linguistic, philological, literary, historical-cultural and socio-political areas of Turkology.✓ Demonstrates reasoning and writing, learning, research and work skills in familiar and unfamiliar study and work environments; relies on democratic principles and values; recognizes the importance of intercultural differences and cultural diversity; and shows tolerance toward different opinions, cultures and concepts. |
|--|--|