

MA in BLACK SEA STUDIES

We would like to inform you about our MA in Black Sea Studies, a unique multidisciplinary programme conceived at the very inception of the International Hellenic University. Located in the burgeoning city of Thessaloniki – in Greece, named the European Youth Capital of 2014, the university is situated within an international milieu of top-class researchers and provides an exceptional environment for students to take the next step in their academic and professional careers.

The MA in Black Sea Studies was created with a profound understanding of the complexity of the region it studies. A strong foundation is provided through courses ranging from archaeology and history to international relations, economics and political studies. As the programme emphasizes both historical depth and contemporary analysis, students are offered a unique opportunity to pursue innovative research that aligns both with their personal academic background and the rigor of interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approaches.

With affordable tuition fees, available scholarships and a full scholarship for a student from the Black Sea region, the MA in Black Sea Studies at the International Hellenic University is an excellent way to engage in in-depth research and take a major step in the advancement of your career.
